Subject: Request for Proposal - Automated Document Extraction System

Project Brief (Initial Query)

Hi Team,

Our operations team is currently swamped with manual data entry. We process hundreds of shipping manifests, vendor invoices, and email attachments every day. We need an AI-powered pipeline to automate this workflow.

Core Vision:

- We want a system where our staff can upload incoming documents and automatically pull out key details like supplier names, line items, total amounts, and dates.
- We also need a simple web interface so our team can review the extracted data, make quick edits if the AI gets something wrong, and click a button to approve it.
- Once approved, the data should sync into our internal database.

We don't have a rigid specification document yet, but we want to launch this as soon as possible. Please let us know if your team can build this and what your initial thoughts are on the approach.

Best,

Dave Miller
